

Guru Nanak Dev Ji Essay In Punjabi

This book is not intended to provide a list of the 100 'best' books ever written and published by Punjabi authors. Given the sheer range of books written by Punjabi authors and the unpredictability of individual taste, any such definitive list is quite impossible. Secondly, the choice has been restricted to books that were written by them either in Punjabi, Hindi or Urdu but have been translated into English. Thus, personal choice restricted by availability has dictated this selection. The choice of books includes autobiographies, novels, short stories, poems, and plays. Research books, religious books, and books written originally in English have not been included. From the Introduction I am amazed at the scholarship, the passion and the love with which Parmjeet Singh has written this book. It will be a reference volume for all times. Nirupama Dutt Poet, Journalist & Translator Mr. Singh's effort is commendable as he is making available some of the rarest of gems of Punjabi literature to the non-Punjabi readers. I congratulate Mr. Singh on putting together this selection and hope that non-Punjabi readers of this book would find new horizons of cultural experience opening up before them. Of course, for Punjabi readers, it may be yet another opportunity to experience a sense of genuine pride in their rich legacy of language, literature and culture. . Prof. Rana Nayyar

The Milestones series conforms to CBSE's CCE scheme, strictly adhering to the NCERT syllabus. The text is crisp, easy to understand, interactive, informative and activity-based. The series motivates young minds to question, analyse, discuss and think logically.

The ten essays in this volume are divided into four parts. In part one, the first essay deals with the Sikh scriptures, including Sri Guru Granth Sahib. The second essay discusses in detail, the vision and mission of Universal Human-hood of Sri Guru Gobind Singhi. In part two, the essays deal with Sikh Identity, and show that till today the struggle for identity is continuing. Part three contains four essays dealing with the Sikh concepts of creation, spirituality, charity, and suffering and death. Part four contains two essays. One dealing with interfaith dialogue offered by Sri Guru Nanak Devji and the last essay on the historical development of the same process, with special reference to the contribution of the Sikh community. This volume will be of great interest to scholars working on Religion in South Asia in general and Sikh Studies in particular.

The eclectic mix of personal essays, poems and scholarly articles and the teachings of Guru Nanak that form this volume have come from contributors of not only the Sikh community in India, Pakistan and the diaspora, but also from people belonging to other faiths who have been touched by the mystique of the faith of Baba Nanak. By placing the personal records alongside with the scholarly insights into His teachings, what we have understood is that there is a Nanak for each one of us – a Nanak within each one of us – and it is this Nanak which abides in our consciousness and whom we need to seek out and discover. This book is, therefore, meant both for the initiated as well as the uninitiated. The lay readers will get a glimpse into the richness of thought and experience that an acquaintance with Guru Nanak brings with it. For the scholarly, the insights by the contributors who have dedicated their lives to an understanding of Sikhi will help in opening newer vistas of the Gurbani. The plurality of views expressed mirrors the free thinking and the respect for human beings and the upholding of human dignity that Nanakji propagated, practiced and stood for.

An influential six-volume work on the philosophy of Sikhism, published in 1909, by the one-time deputy commissioner of the Punjab. Reference and Information services are considered an important activity of a modern library. This comprehensive and student-friendly book discusses in detail different types of information and reference sources and services, such as encyclopaedias, directories, yearbooks, dictionaries, geographical sources, biographical sources, statistical sources and handbooks. The book is organised into four parts. Part I deals with various types of information sources such as documentary and non-documentary sources. Part II discusses different types of reference services, organisation of reference section and the role of the librarian in the digital age. Part III describes the wide range of information service such as Current Awareness Service (CAS) and Selective Dissemination of Information (SDI). Part IV provides an overview of important information systems such as National Information System for Science and Technology (NISSAT) and International System for Agricultural Science and Technology (AGRIS). The book is intended for the undergraduate and postgraduate students of library science. Besides, it will also be very useful for librarians, information scientists, and information professionals. Salient Features Deals with both theoretical and practical aspects of information sources and services; Discusses various types of information sources and services keeping in view the latest trends and developments in the field; Presents the concepts related to information sources and services in a systematic and accessible way. In India, religion continues to be an absolutely vital source for social as well as personal identity. All manner of groups–political, occupational, and social–remain grounded in specific religious communities. This book analyzes the development of the modern Hindu and Sikh communities in North India starting from about the fifteenth century, when the dominant bhakti tradition of Hinduism became divided into two currents: the sagun and the nirgun. The sagun current, led mostly by Brahmins, has remained dominant in most of North India and has served as the ideological base of the development of modern Hindu nationalism. Several chapters explore the rise of this religious and political movement, paying particular attention to the role played by devotion to Ram. Alternative trends do exist in sagun tradition, however, and are represented here by chapters on the low-caste saint ChokhameI and the tantric sect founded by Klna Ram. The nirgun current, led mostly by persons of Ksandr artisan castes, formed the base of both the Sikh community, founded by Guru Nanak, and of various non-Brahmin sectarian movements derived from such saints as Kabir, Raidas, Dadu, and Shiv Dayal Singh. Two chapters discuss the formation of a distinctive Sikh theology and a Sikh community identity separate from that of the Hindus. Other chapters discuss the validity of the sagun-nirgun distinction within Hindu tradition and the interplay of social and religious ideas in nirgun hagiographic texts and in sectarian movements such as the Adi Dharma Mission and the Radhasoami Satsang. When all has been tried, yet Justice is not in sight, It is then right to pick up the sword, It is then right to fight. Written in exquisite Persian verse, the Zafarnama was a defiant message composed by Guru Gobind Singh, the tenth Sikh Guru, and addressed to the Mughal emperor Aurangzeb, following a series of fierce battles between the imperial forces and Sikh warriors. With wisdom and honesty, the Guru indicts the emperor for the moral and spiritual bankruptcy of his empire. These 111 stirring stanzas, which form the core of the Guru's spiritual philosophy, highlight his deep understanding of the true nature of God and Creation. In this evocative translation, Navtej Sarma brings to life the valiant voice of Guru Gobind Singh and the power of his poetic genius in a passionate disavowal of tyranny that remains ever relevant.

Community Identity and Political Action

The Sikh Review

All of us are the mortal beings and our lives are too short. The holy scriptures of almost all the religions emphasize on doing the service of the mankind and other creatures of the universe too. It is considered a noble deed or a virtue to do the service. All of us should adopt the doctrine of doing the service so that we may make our sincere efforts to make this world a better one. By adopting the doctrine of service in our lives we can escape hatred and jealousy for other persons. By doing so we shall be able to create and develop the feelings of mutual love, mutual co-operation, mutual understanding and of fraternity. By doing so, we can become the useful members of the society. The word service is very sweet and pleasant and that word provides peace and joy or pleasure to our minds. The word service means to serve one's elders and old, to serve the guests who visit our houses, to serve the suppressed, downtrodden, destitute, poor, helpless, unsupported, orphans and needy people with mind, body and wealth. To provide other people comforts, amenities, facilities, rest, peace, eases, delights and pleasures is also called as service. The true service may occur only when the person who do the service does not have any wish or desire for any reward or yield in return of service, when that person does not have any avatice or greed of any kind in his or her mind and when he or she does not have the feelings of selfishness in his or her mind, when such a person does not feel any pride or ego over the service done by him or her, when he or she does not do the service only for the sake of mere show, display, ostentation and hypocrisy instead he or she does the service from his or her true mind.

The Evening Prayer Of The Sikhs, Recited Around Sunset, Rehras Is A Humble Invocation, A Quest For The Infinite Reality That Is God. It Is Believed That Rehras, In Some Form Or The Other, Has Been Recited Since The Time Of Guru Nanak (1469-1539), The Founder Of Sikhism. Compositions Of The Other Gurus Were Added In Later Years, And The Final Arrangement Of The Order In Which The Hymns Are Recited Was Formulated By The Shiromani Gurudwara Prabandhak Committee In The 1930s. Its Contents Can Be Divided Into Three Broad Strands: The Quest, The Striving And The Culmination. Beginning With Guru Nanak, S Sodar Literally, The Door (To God'S Mansion) It Includes Hymns By Guru Amar Das, Guru Ram Das, Guru Arjan Dev, And The Quatrains Of Guru Gobind Singh. Reema Anand And Khushwant Singh S Translations Bring To A Wider Readership The Beauty And Comfort Of Some Of The Most Poignant Religious Verse Ever Composed. Adding To The Value Of This Edition Are The Original Hymns In Devnagari Script That Appear Alongside The Translations.

As the Sun of Suns Rose: The Darkness of the Creeds Was Dispelled is the first of the eight books of Sehje Rachio Khalsa of Harinder Singh Mehboob, who had written it in a revealed and metaphysical approach after a continuous meditative study for thirty to thirty-five years of world religions, prophets, philosophy, history, psychology, mythology, world folklore, and the different forms of literature as the world epic, divine poetry, fiction, drama, and different types of prose of the elite genius of the world. In this large book, the poet/writer raises so many questions about the decline of world religions with the passage of time, the concept of pure history, the concept of death, the concept of greater holy war, the concept of pure nature, the concept of ecstasy (vismad), the concept of eternal victory, etc. In this book, he describes the answer to the above questions in detail in the most convincing ways. In this world's history of more than four thousand years, this book can be compared only with very few books that are authorized as distinctive classics as the Bezels of Wisdom by Ibn al-Arabi, The Awakening of Faith by Ashv Ghoshu, Kashful Majub by Dara Ganj Hujbiri, etc.

Between Love and Freedom interprets the figure of the revolutionary in the Hindi novel by establishing its lineage in rerepresentative Bengali novels, as well as in the contending moralities of Mahatma Gandhi and Bhagat Singh on the idea of violence. It reveals how conventional social realism and emergent modernist modes were brought together in the novelistic tradition by extending the political ideal of anti-colonial revolution into domains of sexual desire and subjective expression, especially in the works of Agyeya, Jainendra, and Yashpal. This work will deeply interest scholars and students of literature, modern Indian history, Hindi, and political science.
